

SEXUALITY FOR SENIORS

A course of 10 sessions running weekly, for men only, weekly from 16 July to 7 September, 2005.

for women only weekly from 1 October to 23 November, 2005.

The older we get, the more sexuality issues seem to change for us. Medical technology and the consequential adaptation of laws have meant huge developments in the ways we are able to look at our own responsibilities, both to ourselves and to one another.

Coordinator Beth Webster works with several specialist assistants, to help us explore in confidence, those implications for our sexual health, that are embodied in the relevant legal changes effecting each of us over 50 years of age. And a couple specialising in sexual relationships, a medic comments on current treatments, a specialist on vulnerabilities around sexually transmitted diseases, another on fertility studies, or DNA testing, rethinking gender boundaries, the intellectual, emotional, physical, social & generational vulnerabilities and current relevant treatments available for the aging body.

Maximum number in each group: 7 only.

Another mixed discussion group is planned later, for men and women together.

Mens' Course: Saturday 16 July, 9am - 4pm.
and then the following Wednesday mornings 9:30 – 12:30pm: 20 & 27 July,
